Additional Local.

We call the attention of ladies to the advertisement in this paper of "Dr. Mar-chisi's Uterine Catholicon." We have in our possession indisputable evidence of its worth, and we recommend the afflicted to try it. This remedy differs from quack nostrums in the following respects: 1st.
It is prepared by a regular physician; 2d.
It is not recommended for all diseases, but only for a particular class, peculiar to females; 3d. It is recommended and used in practice by many physicians, one of whom at least is well known to the people of New Bedford. 47-ly.

Worth Remembering.

Now that good times are again upon us, it is worth remembering that no one can enjoy the pleasantest surroundings if in bad health. There are hundreds of miserable people going about to day with dis-ordered stomach, liver or kidneys, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic would do them more good than all the medicines they have ever tried.

A Delightful Novelty.

Ladies prefer Floreston Cologne because they find this lasting combination of exquisite perfumes a delightful novelty.

Unpublished Page from the Life of George Washington.

It is a merry summer time. To him the mother of the father of his country:
"George, dear, where have you been since school was dismissed?"
"Hain't been nowhere ma."
"Did you come straight home from school, George?"
"Yes, ma'am!"
"But school dismissed at 3 o'clock, and it is now half past 6. How does that come?"
"Got kep in."
"What for?"
"Missed m' joggrafy less'n."
"But your teacher was here only an hour ago, and said you had't been at school all day."
"Got kep in yestiddy, then."
"George, why were you not at school today?"
"Forgot. Thought all the time it was Saturday."

"Don't stand on one side of your foot in that manner. Come here to me. George,
you have been swimming."

"No'me."

"Yes you have George. Haven't you?"

"N o a p."

"Tell your mother, George?"

"N u c k."

"Then what makes your hair so wet,
my son?"

"Sweat. I run so fast comin' from school!"

"But your shirt is wrong side out."

"Put it on that way when I got up this morning for luck. Always win when you play for keeps if your shirt's on wrong side out."

"And you haven't the right sleeve of your shirt on your arm at all, George, and there is a hard knot tied in it. How did that come there?"

"Bill Fairfax tied it in when I wasn't lookin'."

"But what were you doing with your shirt off?"

"Didn't have it off. He jes took'n tied that knot in there when it was on me."

"George!"

"That's honest truth, he did."

About that time the noble Bushrod came along with a skate strap, and we draw a veil over the dreadful scene, merely remarking that boys do not seem to change
so much as men.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Talmage's Plea in behalf of Criminals and Drunkards.

"In the sermon upon the Mount of Olives," said Mr. Talmage last Sunday morning. "The people were given to understand that the same yardstick that they employed upon others would be employed upon them. There is such a thing as good blood, and such a thing as bad blood. Some are born liars, or born malcontents, or born outlaws, or born swindlers. Why does one horse cost $100 and another, $5,000? Ninety years ago Margaret, the mother of criminals, lived in a village in this state. There have been 628 persons in that ancestral line, 200 of criminals. In one branch of the family there were twenty; nine of them have been in State prison, and nearly all the others turned out badly. It is estimated that that family cost the county and the State $100,000, to say nothing of the property they destroyed. A man born in such an ancestral line will go down under the overmastering gravitation unless there be some supernatural aid afforded him. Such persons deserve not your exhortation, but your pity. But besides those who are criminals and become incarcerated, there are criminals who are found out and those who have a criminal tendency, but by the grace of God become Christians and resist the ancestral influence. All men should recognize the fact that there are these Atlantic and Pacific surges of evil rolling on through the centuries.

"At the last day it will be found that there are men who have gone clear over into all forms of iniquity and plunged in to utter abandonment, who before they yielded to first temptation, resisted more temptation than many a man who has been upright and moral all his life. You the very best man in this House of God,
if you had been subjected to the worst surroundings from childhood, I tell you

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

AN extraordinary falling off in the production of the Cherry Grove district caused excitement and an advance in the Bradford oil market, where the sales reached the unprecedented figure of 6,392,000 barrels. The yield of one well decreased in forty-six days from 2,180 barrels in twenty-four hours to one barrel.

A MONUMENT to the memory of Capt. William Morgan was unveiled at Batavia, N. Y., by the members of the National Christian Association. Jonathan Blanchard led the singing. Rev. B. T. Roberts prayed that the people might be emancipated from the evils of secret societies. Dr. Ray, classed Morgan as a martyr, and Prof. C. A. Blanchard accused the Masons of murdering Morgan.

CHIEF ENGINEER GEORGE W. MELVILLE, and the seamen William Noros and William Nindermann, survivors of the Jeannette Arctic exploring expedition, and of the party that discovered the dead bodies of Lieut. De Long and his companions, and Lieut. Robert M. Berry, of the burned Arctic exploring steamer Rodgers, arrived at New York the other day in the steamship Parthia.

THE attempt to bring about a compromise between the iron manufacturers of Pittsburgh and vicinity and a committee of the Amalgamated Association resulted in failure, the manufacturers rejecting a proposition to adjust differences and end the strike by paying puddlers $5.75 per ton, an advance of 25 cents. The manufacturers adhere to $5.50, the rate prevailing when the strike began.

M. J. H. HICKNEY, of Baltimore, purchased the buildings and wharves lying between the historic rock at Plymouth, Mass., and the water, for the purpose of demolishing them, and thus permit the ocean to flow up to the rock. The 2-weeks-old child of Anton Pelata, of Pittsburgh, was found dead in bed, and a big black cat sitting on its breast. The verdict was that the child's death was caused by its breath having been sucked away by the cat. Dwight S. Lathrop, assistant cashier in the office of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, has absconded with $20,000. The British rifleman were victorious in the international match at Creedmoor, scoring a grand total of 1,975 points, against 1,835 by the Americans.

THE extensive boot and shoe factory of J. Richardson & Co., at Elmira, N. Y., valued at $250,000, was wiped out by fire, throwing 300 men out of employment. Four firemen were seriously injured by falling walls.

THE WEST.

A RECENT dispatch from Independence, Mo., says: Mrs. M. H. Valle, wife of the defendant in the star-route trial, has left to join her husband in Washington. A deed conveying the residence of Valle to his wife was recorded here. The consideration was $22,000—about one-fourth of its real value. The Crescent mills and elevator at Denver, Col., were swept away by fire. The estimated loss is $225,000; fully insured. They were the largest in the State and full of grain. Mrs. Garfield purchased the residence of Ralph Worthington, on Prospect street, Cleveland, for $50,000. The post-office at Huntingdon, Ind., was burglarized and $2,000 worth of property taken.

THE rumor of an Indian invasion of the southwestern part of Nebraska, which was started in Dundey county and telegraphed broadcast over the country, proves to be entirely without foundation. The story was started by a frightened settler, who magnified a small party of peaceable Indians into an army of hostiles.

THE sphere of woman has been enlarged in a curious direction by the joint action of Mrs. Georgia Sackett Ruggles and Gov. Porter of Indiana. There was a bigamist to be overhauled in Kansas, and, taking up the case in behalf of the wronged and penniless victim of man's baseness, Mrs. Ruggles applied for and obtained a requisition, and by appointment of Gov. Porter was vested with the authority to proceed to Kansas and bring the bigamist back to Bartholomew county, Ind., all of which Mrs. Ruggles did in regular man-fashion. The Grand Trunk road has just finished at its Port Huron shops a locomotive fifty-nine feet in length, with drive-wheels six feet in diameter.

THE mill and stock of the Mitchell & Rowland Lumber Company, at Toledo, valued at $325,000, was destroyed by fire. The Missouri car and foundry works, at St. Louis, were burned, causing a loss of $150,000; covered by insurance.

JAMES RISTENBROCK, alias Tracy, convicted of killing Officer Huebner in the early part of February, paid the penalty of his crime at Chicago, on Friday, Sept. 15. The condemned man was firm to the last, and died as he predicted he would, sustained by what he claimed to be a consciousness of innocence. Claspings a black crucifix to his breast, he was launched into eternity with the name of the Saviour upon his lips. Death was instantaneous. At Metropolis, Ill., on the same day, Samuel Redding, colored, was hanged.

THE Postmaster at Socorro, N. M., has been displaced and arrested because he is short, $2,300 in his accounts. About $11,000 was realized at Detroit from the sale of animals belonging to Coups' circus. The hippopotamus brought $2,300, a leopard $1,250, and fifty-six monkeys went off at $14 each.

THE SOUTH.

DREADFUL destruction was worked in Florida by a tornado. The cotton crop suffered severely, and in some places was totally destroyed. Buildings were torn down, trees and fences leveled, and many persons were killed by the storm.

THE sixty-eighth anniversary of the battle of North Point was celebrated by the Baltimoreans with more than usual ceremony and display. Jay Gould has been elected President of the Texas Pacific railroad. The annual report shows the assets to be $2,375,773, and the current liabilities $295,562. The Richmond (Va.) Banking and Insurance Company has suspended business, with liabilities reported at $607,000. The amount of deposits is $600,000, one-half of which belongs to the State of Virginia.

YELLOW fever of the most malignant type has broken out at Mer, Mexico, about 100 miles below Laredo, and the citizens are fleeing. There are many patients at ranches on the Texas side of the Rio Grande. The Mexicans can hardly be made to appreciate the danger of a lax enforcement of the quarantine regulations. It is now announced that hundreds are prostrate at isolated localities in the State of Tamaulipas. The disease is on the increase at Pensacola, Fla. Thirty buildings were consumed by fire at Crockett, Texas, causing a loss of $125,000.

THE blue-grass farm of the late H. P. McGrath, near Lexington, Ky., containing over 400 acres, was bought at auction by Milt Young, the turfman, for $112.50 per acre.

THE prisoners in the jail at Louisville recently manufactured two skeleton-keys from sheet lead and made a rope from blankets. The other morning, as the turnkey came in to extinguish the gas, three men threw him into a cell and bound and gagged him. A revolver was placed at his temple, but one man saved his life. Seven jail-birds then unlocked the back door, battered down a gate with a stick of timber and made their escape.

WASHINGTON.

TO GUARD against favoritism in examinations of pension cases Commissioner Dudley has issued an order directing that no special examiner shall remain and perform his duties in the State from which he was appointed. The object is to leave examinations free from the influence of friendship or acquaintance, and to secure justice and impartiality alike to the applicant and to the Government.

MINER and Rerdell, the convicted star-route conspirators, were granted a new trial, Judge Wylie setting aside the verdict because of its incoherency and the misconduct of the jury. Merrick, for the Government, acquiesced in the motion for the new trial, claiming the recent verdict simply trifled with justice.

POLITICAL.

A. C. BOTKIN, a well-known newspaper man, late of Chicago and Milwaukee, has been nominated by the Republicans for Delegate in Congress from Montana.

THE son of the late Benjamin H. Hill, of Georgia, modestly declines appointment by Gov. Colquitt to his father's unexpired term in the United States Senate. Learning that it was the Governor's intention to appoint him, Mr. Hill wrote a letter declining the honor as one above his qualifications or aspirations.

GEN. JAMES B. WEAVER was unanimously nominated for Congress by the Sixth district Greenback Convention of Iowa.

GENERAL.

THE Department of Agriculture at Washington estimates the total wheat yield (winter and spring) of the United States at 520,000,000 bushels. While the yield is unusually large, the yield per capita will be less than in 1879 and 1880. The potato crop is estimated at 150,000,000 bushels. The Chiefs of the Fire Departments of the United States and Canada assembled in convention at Cincinnati.

WILLIAM H. VANDERBILT says that "while the business of the country at this time is not in the best condition ever experienced, yet the outlook for the next eighteen months is certainly very good." At a meeting of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Dr. Green announced his intention of resigning the Presidency. A quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. was declared, payable on and after Oct. 16.

THE united committees of the various Methodist bodies in Canada met at Hamilton, and unanimously resolved that the time had arrived when efforts should be made to ascertain the basis of an agreement which would unite all the Methodist churches in the Dominion.

THE flight of French Canadians to the United States is a subject which has received due consideration at Ottawa, and the Governor General has expressed a willingness to assist in colonizing them in the Northwest. The military barracks at La Prairie, Can., which originally cost $500,000, were fired during a storm, and totally consumed.

ENGINEER MELVILLE has caused a great sensation at Philadelphia by deserting his wife and children upon the moment of his arrival. The wife's story of his gruff greeting and brutal departure is a pathetic one. Lieut. Dahenhower's attention having been called to notices in the press containing innuendoes of charges by him against Engineer Melville, he has issued a card stating he has made no accusations against any one, and that his relations with the Engineer have always been of a friendly character.

FOREIGN.

THE Irish leaders have in view a consolidation of all the projects for the welfare of their country, based on the platform of self-government, abolition of landlordism, promotion of home industries, rights of labor, and a paid representation in Parliament. One of the buttresses of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, fell, completely decapitating four women. Emile Plantamour, the Swiss astronomer, is dead. It is announced from St. Petersburg that the coronation of the Czar has been postponed until 1883.

IN the international rowing contest at London the Hillsdale crew took the lead of the Thames Club. Half a mile from the starting point a serious foul occurred, but the Hillsdales got three lengths ahead, when Capt. Foreign Immigration.

A New York telegram says: Superintendent Jackson, of Castle Garden, reports that during the first six months of the present year 278,342 immigrants landed at this port. The avowed destinations of these newcomers in the West were as follows: Arizona, 16; Arkansas, 416; Colorado, 1,232; California, 2,355; Dakota, 2,107; Indiana, 3,542; Illinois, 31,834; Idaho, 8; Iowa, 11,546; Kentucky, 777; Kansas, 2,209; Michigan, 12,690; Missouri, 5,600; Minnesota, 14,287; Montana, 158; New Mexico, 31; Manitoba, 280; Nebraska, 4,458; Nevada, 124; Ohio, 14,633; Oregon, 159; Utah, 798; Wisconsin, 15,232; Washington Territory, 38; Wyoming, 159; Indian Territory, 2. The greater portion of these immigrants proceeded directly to the West, and comparatively few went either to the South or to New England. Although the avowed destination of nearly 100,000 was New York State, only a small proportion of them have settled in this vicinity.

THE WAR IN EGYPT.

Brilliant Victory of the British at Tel-el-Kebir.

Arabi a Prisoner, His Army Dispersed and the War at an End.

Wednesday, the 13th of September, was a great day for the British army in Egypt. Gen. Wolseley, at day-break, advanced upon Tel-el-Kebir, the Egyptians opening fire when the British were one mile distant. The place was captured by a charge, the struggle lasting only twenty minutes. The loss of Arabi Pasha is estimated at 2,000 men, beside forty guns and 3,000 prisoners. The number killed on the British side was about 200. Arabi is said to have escaped on horseback to Zagazig, while his men fled toward the desert, hotly pursued by the Indian cavalry on the south and the British cavalry on the north. The Egyptian regiments are credited with cowardly behavior, while the black troops from the Sudan fought bravely, and the rebel artillery was well served. The Khedive's band headed a procession at Alexandria which indulged in a jubilee over the victory of the British. Gen. McPherson pushed forward and occupied Zagazig, capturing five railway trains. Dispatches from Tel-el-Kebir give the following particulars of the battle: "The rebels discovered our men when about a mile from their works, and opened a heavy rifle fire. Our men paused for a moment on the line of the sand-hills, and then, with a gallant rush, they were among the rebels. Acting on Gen. Wolseley's orders, they reserved their fire and went in with the bayonet. The slaughter for a time was very great. The rebels could not stand it, and broke and fled, pursued hotly. The final rush was made over a distance of 200 yards, the men skirmishing and seeking cover until they reached this point. Several thousand Egyptians were taken prisoners. Our own loss up to this time I should compute at 200 killed. The following officers fell: British officers killed—Maj. Colville, of the Seventy-fourth Highlanders; Lieut. Somerville, Seventy-fourth Highlanders; British officers wounded—Col. Hutchinson, of the Forty-sixth regiment; Capt. Kephel, of the Seventy-fourth Highlanders; Capt. Cumberland, of the Seventy-fourth Highlanders; Lieut. Midwood, of the Seventy-fourth Highlanders; Lieut. Gordon Cary, of the Seventy-fourth Highlanders. Lieut. Gordon in the melee killed three Egyptian officers with his claymore."

The English advance guard reached Cairo on the evening of the 14th inst., by rail, and at once took possession of the city. Arabis were scattered in all directions over the deserts, and were coming forward as fast as possible with offers to surrender. Arabi himself was virtually a prisoner in Cairo, where, on his arrival after the disaster of Tel-el-Kebir, he was greeted with stones by the same populace that would have hailed him as the deliverer of Egypt and the conqueror of her foes had the tide of battle turned the other way. It was stated that he would be held by the local authorities subject to the demands of the Khedive and his English allies. The Sultan telegraphed Gen. Wolseley his congratulations, at the same time preferring a request that the march of the British any further into the interior of Egypt be stopped. To this cool proposition Gen. Wolseley returned a brief reply referring the Sultan to the British Government in London, but at the same time ordering his forces onward to Cairo. Numerous delegations arrived at Alexandria to express the loyalty and submissiveness of the people to the Khedive. The rebel force at Tel-el-Kebir comprised 30,000 regulars, 7,000 Bedouins, and 3,000 volunteers. The British loss was fifty-four killed and 350 wounded. The following account of the battle at Tel-el-Kebir was telegraphed by cable to the New York Herald: "The attack began on the left. Nothing could be imagined finer than the advance of the Highland brigade. The Fourteenth were next the canal. Next were the Cameronians, and the Gordon Highlanders continued the line, with the Black Watch upon their flank. The Forty-sixth and Sixtieth regiments formed a second line. Swiftly and silently the Highlanders moved forward to the attack. No word was spoken, no shot fired, until within 300 yards of the enemy's earthworks, nor up to that time did any sound in the Egyptian lines betoken that they were aware of the presence of their assailants. Then suddenly a terrific fire flashed along the line of sand-heaps, a storm of bullets whizzed over the heads of the advancing troops, a wild cheer broke from the Highlanders, and in response the pipes struck shrilly up, bayonets were fixed, and at double-quick time they dashed forward. The first line of intrenchments was carried, the enemy scarcely offering any resistance. But from another line of intrenchments, behind which in the still dim light one could scarcely see, a burst of musketry broke out. For a few minutes the Highlanders poured in a heavy fire, but it was probably as innocuous as that of the unseen enemy whose bullets whistled harmlessly overhead. The delay in the advance was but short. Then the order was given, and the brigade again went rapidly forward. Soon a portion of the force had passed between the enemy's redoubts and opened a flanking fire. This was too much for the Egyptians, who took to their heels and fairly ran, suffering as the crowded masses rushed across the open desert, very heavily from our fire, being literally mowed down by hundreds. Meanwhile fighting began upon the other flank. The horse artillery shelled the enemy's extreme left. Here the Egyptians were more prepared than on their right. For a time they kept up a steady fire. The Royal Irish were sent to turn the enemy's left. At the word they dashed at the trenches and carried them at the bayonet's point, so turning the flank of the defenders of the position. Next came the Eighty-eighth regiment, then the Eighty-fourth, the Guards being close up behind in support. These regiments advanced by regular rushes. For a short time the enemy clung to their line of intrenchments, but their fire was singularly ineffective, and the British troops got fairly into the trenches. Then the enemy fought stoutly for a few moments. The combat was a hand-to-hand one. Maj. Hart shot one man as he was trying to wrest a revolver from his hand. This was even after the trench had been turned by our advance on their flank. Then, as the British poured in, the Egyptians fled as rapidly as those on the other side had done before the Highlanders. The fight was now practically over."

Gen. Wolseley telegraphed from Cairo to the British War Office on Sept. 15, as follows: "Gen. Lowe has occupied Cairo. Arabi Pasha and Toulba Pasha have surrendered unconditionally. Ten thousand troops at Cairo have laid down their arms. The war is over. Send no more men from England. Midshipman Dechair is safe. I have been received here with open arms by all classes. The soldiers are glad to return to their homes. Arabi Pasha and Toulba Pasha are both confined in our guard-rooms. I will now change my base from Ismailia to Alexandria." A dispatch from Alexandria on Sept. 16 says: "After the engagement at Tel-el-Kebir, Arabi Pasha fled to Cairo and told the Council that the troops had deserted him, upon which the mission was sent to the Khedive with two letters from Arabi Pasha, one expressing his devotion, and the other warning him not to allow the English to enter Cairo, as the same results might follow as happened at Alexandria. The Khedive refused to receive the letters. Arabi Pasha was taken before the Khedive. He presented a loathsome picture of groveling servility. He swore he had not been aware he was fighting against the Khedive. The Khedive remained standing while Arabi Pasha was in his presence. When Arabi had concluded, the Khedive ordered his removal. It has been ascertained that Arabi was in bed at the time of the attack on Tel-el-Kebir, and, panic-stricken at the sudden and unexpected attack, fled in dismay. All the Egyptian leaders will be tried at Cairo for their rebellion. Canned provisions for 20,000 men for a month were captured at Tel-el-Kebir.

Lord Dufferin informed the Porte that British military operations in Egypt have ceased, and as England is about to withdraw a portion of her troops the Sultan might decide whether it was necessary to sign the military convention. Twenty prominent rebels captured at Cairo will be tried by court-martial. A number of prominent Egyptians are still at large. Alexandria dispatches of Sept. 18 announce that the British had occupied Kafr-el-Dwar and Damietta, and that the commander at Aboukir had signified his readiness to surrender. The official journal at St. Petersburg says Great Britain will not be allowed to settle the Egyptian question alone. The London Times insists that the rebel army must be replaced by gendarmes to maintain civil order.

When the garrison at Aboukir marched out to surrender, on Sept. 18, an entire regiment decamped to join Abdella Pasha at Damietta, who refuses to surrender. The rest of the garrison, numbering 5,000 or 6,000, proceeded to Kafr-el-Dwar, were disarmed, the men dismissed to their homes and the officers detained. Arabi, because of threat of poisoning, had his victuals cooked by members of his family while at Kafr-el-Dwar. Tanta had been occupied by the British, and service on all the railroads had been resumed. Natives with torn and bloody clothing had been paraded in the streets of Cairo by Arabi's orders as representing brutal treatment by the English. Gen. Wolseley claims to have good reason for the belief that the resistance at Damietta was inspired by the Sultan, who has quite recently been in communication with Arabi Pasha. One of the participants in the June massacre was hanged at Alexandria.

BRAVE MEN BUTCHERED.

Frightful Atrocities Perpetrated in the Peruvian War.

A Chilean Garrison Massacred After Making a Heroic Defense.

According to a Chilean correspondent of the Panama Star and Herald, native guerrillas burned and pillaged the city of Tarma and other places, committed frightful atrocities, and, among others, murdered a number of foreigners. The correspondent says: When the inhabitants of Tarma learned that the Chilean forces were about to leave, a large majority of the Peruvian families appealed to be allowed to accompany them in order to escape the depredations of their lawless countrymen. Only some foreign families, believing the guerrillas would respect them, decided to remain. Fully 500 women followed the army. Just five hours after the troops left immense hordes of guerrillas poured in. There were 600 armed with rifles and equipped like regulars, who entered, formed in column, followed by at least 3,000 guerrillas armed with sticks, clubs, lances and other similar weapons, who entered pell-mell, shouting vociferously. On it being known that all well-to-do and decent families had left town the fury of the Indians knew no bounds. Residences were stripped, and those of many foreign residents shared the same fate. Many assassinations followed. Among the victims were eighteen foreigners. In the midst of the drunken orgies Tarma was reduced to ruins. With the object of burning the properties of foreigners and Chileanized Tarmaians at the town was burned. The cities of Jauja and Huancayo shared the fate of Tarma. The names of some foreigners assassinated are given. An Italian named Motto and two Germans named Strinz and Scholk are among the slain. Four Chilean soldiers and six fugitive Peruvians were frozen to death in the Cordilleras.

At Concepcion the Chilean garrison made a noble defense against hordes of Indians. When the ammunition of the Chileans was exhausted, the assailants secured paraffine and fired the barracks, burning some of the wounded soldiers. Capt. Pinto and a few survivors of the garrison made a sally, cut down the enemy, and cleared the front and sides of the barracks, while the men inside extinguished the flames and removed the wounded to places of safety. In another sally Capt. Pinto was shot dead. The Indians again fired the building, and sallies were organized under Sub-Lieuts. Montt, Cruz and Peicz. In one of the earliest of these the first-mentioned officer was mortally wounded. Subsequently Sub-Lieut. Peicz fell wounded in another sally. The young officer was immediately pounced upon by a horde of Indians, who lanced him to death. At this hour five friars from the neighboring convent of Ocopa have appeared on the scene, and, crucifix in hand, commenced to incite the Indians to renew the attack on the building. At 10 o'clock, of seventy-seven Chileans composing the garrison, only four, and two of them wounded, remained to offer resistance. The others were either dead or dying. The building is now ablaze in every direction. Four women, wives of the soldiers, were eye-witnesses of the death of their husbands. One of them, accompanied by her son of 5 years, and another by an infant who had come into the world at the commencement of the attack—after removing the wounded from the burning building—went out into the square, hoping their lives would be spared. They had barely stepped outside the building when they were set upon by a crowd of yelling and drunken savages and horribly butchered. The 5-year-old boy had his throat cut from ear to ear, and was barbarously mutilated, and the body of the new-born child was found pierced with lance wounds. Sub-Lieut. Cruz and the surviving soldiers were also surrounded, and they fell one after another, but not until they had sold their lives dearly. When the other Chilean troops arrived, a few days afterward, they found in the square and the adjacent streets 291 of the enemy's dead. The wounded were double that number, and were carried off to the hills. The Chilean dead were collected and buried. The city was burned, and everybody implicated in the massacre who could be found was summarily executed.

The Cradle of the Boot-Black.

New York lays claim to be the place where the street boot-black first appeared, but Boston says the professional boot black is essentially an institution of the "Hub." The Traveller of the latter city says at first the business was associated with window-washing, chimney-sweeping, clothes-cleaning and waiting and tending. In time, however, it became a distinct branch, and many of the boot-blacks of that day acquired a handsome independence, and became real-estate holders. The custom then was to call at the homes of the gentry, take the boots and shoes, string them on long poles and carry them to their respective places of business, polish and return them at an early hour the next day. These poles would hold a dozen or more pairs, and it was a novel sight to see the boot-blacks passing to and fro.

It is stated that a block of creosoted pine, in use in the street pavement in Galveston for seven years, was recently examined and found to have lost but an eighth of an inch.

HOLLAND CITY, MICHIGAN.

PARTY CONVENTIONS.

Synopsis of the Doings of a Few of Them.

Their Declarations of Principles, Candidates, Etc.

NEW HAMPSHIRE REPUBLICANS.

The Republicans of New Hampshire met in State Convention at Concord, and on the fourth ballot nominated Samuel W. Hall, of Keene, for Governor. The Committee on Resolutions reported reaffirming the faith of New Hampshire Republicans in those principles which have given liberty, peace and prosperity to the whole country; lamenting the death of President Garfield, and expressing confidence in his successor. The tariff plank is as follows: "We reaffirm and indorse the principles of a protective tariff as the safeguard of American industries, by which our great manufacturing interests have been fostered and maintained, and American labor protected against ruinous competition and scantily paid labor of foreign nations."

SOUTH CAROLINA REPUBLICANS.

At a convention of the Republicans of South Carolina, held at Columbia, and presided over by S. J. Lee (colored), it was decided to make no nominations for State officers. The following resolution, offered by Congressman Mackay, was adopted:

Resolved, That the Convention of the Union Republican party of South Carolina, while repudiating the financial principles advocated by the Greenback party, and reaffirming the principles of the Union Republican party, do recommend that at the next general election the voters of the State, in the interest of a free ballot and a fair count, cast their ballots, as Republicans, for the State ticket nominated by the Greenback-Labor Convention on the 6th inst.

A resolution was adopted recommending that the Republicans support B. S. Cash, the Independent candidate for Congress in the Fifth district.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEMOCRATS.

The Democratic State Convention of New Hampshire, held at Concord, was presided over by Stilson Hutchins, late of Dubuque, St. Louis and Washington, but now a resident of Laconia, N. H. Martin Van Buren Edgerly was placed in nomination for Governor on the first ballot. Thomas C. Gray, Aiden B. Smith and Henry A. Emerson were nominated for Railroad Commissioners. The resolutions demand radical reform in State expenditures; equal taxation of property, individual and corporate; the passage of the Anti-Bribery bill; the abolition of monopolies; purification of the civil service, State and national, and a strict enforcement of the Prohibition law.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GREENBACKERS.

The National Greenback-Labor party of New Hampshire, in State Convention at Manchester, declared against fusion with either of the present parties, and favored a general railroad law. John F. Woodbury was nominated for Governor, and Lafayette Moore, Wendall P. Eli and John E. Norwood as Railroad Commissioners. Lafayette Chesley was nominated for Congress for the First district, and George Carpenter for the Second district.

NEW YORK ANTI-MONOPOLISTS.

A State Convention of the Anti-Monopolists of New York convened at Saratoga, 150 delegates being in attendance. Patrick H. Cowen presided. A platform of principles was adopted setting forth that "steam and electricity have become the controlling factors in the commercial and industrial world, and these great forces have been monopolized by those who use them to tax the masses for private advantage. The corporate life which now yields these great forces has assumed an importance never hitherto contemplated. It is concentrating the wealth of the nation in the hands of a few persons with alarming rapidity to the injury of the masses of the people. It has appropriated the power of political parties, corrupted elections and legislation to an extent which degrades public morality and endangers free institutions. The whole political system seems pervaded with the spirit of monopoly, which must be overcome or popular government will become a failure. Women are declared to have the same inalienable rights as men." A conference with the Labor party was ordered in case the Republican and Democratic State Conventions do not make satisfactory nominations.

NEBRASKA DEMOCRATS.

The Democratic State Convention of Nebraska, which convened at Omaha, was presided over by Gen. M. Montgomery, of Lincoln, and D. W. Smalls, of Fremont, performed the functions of Secretary. Hon. John Sterling Morton, of Otoe county, was nominated for Governor; J. F. Warren, of Dakota county, Lieutenant Governor; C. L. Bowley, of Saline county, Secretary of State; P. D. Sturtevant, Fillmore county, Treasurer; Charles Leech, Johnson county, Auditor; J. C. Crawford, Cuming county, Attorney General; Charles A. Speice, Platte county, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Henry Grebe, Omaha, Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings. The following platform was adopted:

The Democrats of Nebraska, in State Convention assembled, at Omaha, this 14th day of September, 1882, hereby declare:

1. The Government of the United States has no constitutional or other right to impose taxes on the people, except with the intent and result of getting money into the public treasury with which to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States. The tariff tax called protective, laid with far different intent and result, should be abolished. The Democrats of Nebraska challenge their political opponents in this State to a general discussion of the above propositions, and to an unequivocal statement of the position of the Republican party of Nebraska upon the question of reckless protective tariff.

2. The squandering in the recent River and Harbor bill, in star-route fraudulent contracts, in the payment of alleged secret-service detectives, in the Hubbell 2-per-cent. assessments, in the multiplication of salaries and perquisites for the unnumbered and almost-innumerable swarm of officeholders, and in other visible corruptions of the people's money which does reach the national treasury, deserve the immediate and emphatic condemnation of the people.

3. The State of Nebraska, in common with other States of the Union, has and exercises the right of regulating the sale of intoxicating drinks in the interest of good order within the State, but the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of such drinks within the State is contrary to the fundamental rights of the individual, and to the fundamental principles of social and moral conduct, and if enacted will be neutralized by the constitution of the United States, which permits the introduction to every State of foreign liquors imported from abroad, and controls also every form of inter-State commerce.

4. Corporations, whether in the form of banks, manufacturing establishments or railroads, must keep their hands off from the reserved rights of the people. The Democrats of Nebraska denounce all railroads within the State which elect or attempt to elect, which influence or attempt to influence, delegates to political conventions, members of the Legislature, Senators or members of Congress. Corporate capital as such must not be permitted thus to encroach upon popular rights. We assert the right of the Legislature to control the railroads. We deny the right of the railroads to control the Legislature.

5. We demand the enactment of a law which shall, under severe penalties, forbid the issuance of passes or free transportation of any kind whatsoever by any railroad in Nebraska to any person holding either an elective or appointive office, or any other official position under the constitution or laws of this State.

6. Finally, the Government, whether of the State or of the United States, is nothing but a committee of the citizens appointed to attend to certain concerns of the whole body of the people that cannot otherwise be managed, and all straining or undue tension of the functions of these committees in any direction whatsoever should be constantly watched and always resisted by the people.

COLORADO REPUBLICANS.

In the State Convention of the Republicans of Colorado, held at Denver, Hon. Ernest L. Campbell, of Leadville, was nominated for Governor on the second ballot.

William H. Meyer was nominated for Lieutenant Governor on the first ballot. James B. Belford was nominated for Congress on the second ballot.

Melvin Edwards, of Summit, was nominated for Secretary of State; Fred Wolsen, of Huerfano, for State Treasurer; John Abbott, of Larimer, for Auditor; D. F. Urmey, of Pueblo, for Attorney General; J. B. Chaffee, Chairman of the State Central Committee. Resolutions were adopted of regret at the death of Garfield and indorsing the course of President Arthur; thanks for the calling of Henry M. Teller to the Secretaryship of the Interior; denouncing the demonetization of silver and recommending the apportionment of funds arising from the sale of public lands to the sinking of artesian wells in Colorado.

DELAWARE GREENBACKERS.

A convention of the Greenbackers of Delaware convened at Newcastle and nominated Milo L. Blanchard for Governor, and Alfred H. Weld for Congress. A former convention had named a ticket with John C. Jackson for Governor, but he declined. The platform adopted, in addition to the usual planks, adds one demanding the abolition of the whipping-post.

THE STAR ROUTE CASES.

Alleged Attempts to Bribe the Jury—Sensational Disclosures by Foreman Dickson.

Foreman Dickson's attention having been called to a published interview with Merrick, in which he made remarks reflecting upon his integrity, Dickson replied: "Well, it may suit Merrick to fret and fume and say unkind and unjust things about men who were sworn to perform their duty and performed that duty in a fearless and conscientious manner according to their honest conviction of law and evidence. But if he will turn his attention to the Department of Justice, of which he is now an officer, and purify the atmosphere of that institution and aid in exposing attempted bribery charges and the corrupt practices of his subordinates, he will do the Government good service. No one has a higher appreciation of Merrick than I have, and I have ever prized his friendship, and doubt if he is aware of the damnable transactions which have occurred since the commencement of the star-route cases. A system of espionage was established by the Department of Justice, and in that employ were a number of disreputable persons, prominent among them a man under indictment for robbery, and a self-confessed participant in three-card monte cases lately punished in our court by the conviction of the men against whom this party turned State's evidence. The jurors were followed, and decoys of various kinds adopted to insure them into the commission of a wrong act. Efforts were frequently made to draw them into conversation upon the merits of the case. I have received a number of anonymous letters, and marked papers were daily sent me, all containing matter intended to influence the mind.

"Malicious lies were circulated and published about the jury being seen luncheon with defendants and drinking at their expense, all of which were false. Intimidations of every character were resorted to, and systematic attempts made to terrorize the jury by threatening them. Some of them were charged with drunkenness. One of them, Holmead, informed me early in the proceedings that a lawyer named Falls had interviewed him, telling him he was an officer of the Department of Justice, and had desired him to ascertain by watching my notes, as I jotted down the salient points of testimony, and report to him their import. He told Holmead he was authorized to act by the Attorney General, and was assigned to look after him; that it was a question whether Judge Freeman or Falls should be delegated to take care of Holmead, and finally it was decided to appoint Falls. He urged Holmead to act with him and aid him with information, and said it would result in his (Falls') advancement, and that Holmead would lose nothing by it. I cautioned Holmead when he told me, in June, to pay no attention to Falls, or anyone who attempted to mislead him. Falls repeated his visit to Holmead at intervals and renewed his efforts to inveigle him until Holmead threatened to kick him out of his store. Our places of business were invaded by 'spotters'; our employees were solicited to tell who we conversed with, and what our sentiments were on the subject of the trial; and our wives were not safe from interviewers and overzealous agents. The first personal knowledge I had of the presence of a 'jury-fixer' was when Henry A. Bowen made a proposition to me to convict the defendants, and promised me $25,000. His cool audacity was charming, and he hesitatingly exhibited to me his letters of appointment as a Special Agent of the Department of Justice."

A Washington telegram states that Attorney General Brewster has directed the Government counsel, by a telegram from Newport, to make preparations for a speedy retrial of the defendants, upon whom the jury failed to agree. He also authorized the recall of Mr. Brewster Cameron from San Francisco if it was found necessary to clear up the alleged bribery of Foreman Dickson.

ACCORDING to Harper's Weekly, the legitimate business of the New York Stock Exchange amounts to a little over 14 per cent. of its sales. It estimates that the people are risking in New York alone some $870,000,000 a year on "margins."

A WATERY GRAVE.

Foundering of the Propeller Asia in Georgian Bay.

At Least One Hundred Lives Lost—The Scramble for the Boats.

The steamer Asia was lost in a storm on Georgian bay, on Thursday, Sept. 14, and of 100 persons on board only two are known to have survived. A dispatch from Collingwood, Ontario, says: D. A. Tinkis and Christy Ann Morrison, supposed to be the only survivors of the wreck of the steamer Asia, have arrived here. Tinkis reports that he boarded the Asia near Owen sound, in company with J. H. Tinkis and H. B. Gallagher, of Manitow. The steamer was crowded. All the staterooms were full, and many passengers were lying on sofas and the cabin floor. About 11 Thursday morning a storm struck her. "My uncle, J. H. Tinkis, jumped up and said the boat was doomed. Dishes and chairs were flying in every direction. We left the cabin and found difficulty in getting on deck, the boat rolling so heavily. I got a life-preserver and put it on. The boat fell into the trough of the sea, and would not obey the helm. She rolled heavily for about twenty minutes, when she was struck by a heavy sea and foundered, and went down with the engines working about half-past 11. The Asia was making for French river, and had men, horses and lumbermen's supplies for the shanties. I saw three boats loaded. I was in the first boat. About eight were with me. At last more got in, till the boat was overloaded and turned over twice. The people clung to my life-preserver, which got displaced, and I threw it off. I then left the boat and swam to the Captain's boat, which was near by, and asked John McDougall, the purser, to help me in. He said it was but little use, but gave me his hand. When I got in there were eighteen in the boat. By that time there was a larger number in and clinging to the boat I had left. I know nothing of the third boat. Our boat rolled over, and I missed McDougall. The people were hanging on to the spars and other parts of the wreckage. Our boat was full of water, and the sea was constantly breaking over us. One of the first to die on the boat was the cabin-boy. He was dying, and being supported by one of the men, when a wave washed him overboard. The next to go was a boat hand who jumped out. I could see him paddling round in the water for nearly a hundred yards. Our number was now reduced to seven, five of whom died before reaching the beach. Capt. Savage, who was the last to die, expired in my arms about midnight Thursday. John Little, of Sault Ste. Marie, the mate of the McDonald, and two others, names unknown, also died. The boat finally stranded near Point au Barre about daylight Friday, with Miss Morrison and myself only surviving. I put the bodies out on the beach and pried the boat off with an oar, but did not bail it out. Miss Morrison and I went down the beach in a boat to Derrick about two miles distant, and laid on the beach all night. About 3 o'clock Saturday morning an Indian came along, and I engaged him to bring us to Fanny sound. He would not bring the bodies."

There were probably about 100 persons on board the Asia.

The propeller Asia was built in the Welland canal by M. Simpson in July, 1873. She was owned by the Northwestern Transportation Company, her capacity being 650 tons and her value $24,300. She was classed A1½ and hailed from the port of St. Catharines.

TRAIN-ROBBERIES FOILED.

Bold Attempt to Plunder a Missouri Pacific Express Train.

The Conductor Shot and One of the Robbers Killed.

A dispatch from Vinita, in the Indian Territory, gives some particulars of an attempt to rob a Missouri Pacific train. It appears the Adams Express agent was informed before hand that an attempt would be made to rob the express train due at Vinita at 10:30 at night. The plan was for two of the robbers to board the train at Vinita, quietly capture the conductor, side-track the train four miles north of Vinita, where others of the gang would meet them, rob the express, mail and passengers, then ride away on horses provided for the purpose. The express agent telegraphed J. B. Barrett, route agent, and he and Detective Irskine, of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, and others went south on a freight and boarded the passenger train at Charleston, and made arrangements to thwart the robbers. When the train left Vinita two of the robbers met Conductor Warren on the front platform of the smoking-car, and ordered him to throw up his hands and shot him in the face; Warren fell off the train. The detectives then opened fire, killed one of the robbers and captured the other. The train was backed to Vinita, and the wounded conductor, who was dangerously hurt, was picked up. The train then started north again, but was not molested at the place agreed upon, the other members of the gang evidently thinking something had gone wrong.

Slow Growth.

During a little social gathering at the stately mansion of Morrison Waite on Austin avenue, the conversation drifted to agricultural topics. One of the gentlemen present referred to the fact that the wild plum, by attention and cultivation, increased in size and improved in flavor, and that the same rule applied to other vegetable products.

"It is the same way with children," interrupted Col. McSniffer. "If they do not get the attention of their parents, they don't grow. I once lived near a town where there was an orphan asylum, and I used to see them orphans every day for twenty years, and I hope I may drop dead if they were a bit bigger at the end of twenty years than they were when I first saw them. They hadn't grown an inch in all that time."

Poisonous Plants.

In gardens poisonous plants are declared by the Gardeners' Magazine to be few in number, and of no great value for decorative purposes. A very large proportion of the plants that are in highest repute for beauty, such as the rose, dahlia, pelargonium, begonia, wall-flower stock, carnation and primula are altogether harmless, although for the most part of no value whatever as articles of food. But as there are so many decorative plants that will not injure, even if eaten, it is easy to exclude from the garden a certain few that are noxious, and that sometimes have been associated with sad fatalities. The rooting-out of the great blue aconite, or monk's-hood, the root of which contains a virulent poison, and has yet been many times served on the table as horse-radish, is therefore recommended.

MICHIGAN AFFAIRS.

Potter's Notice.

Allen Potter, of Kalamazoo, has had the Village Marshal serve notice on the saloon-keepers and others warning them not to sell or give liquors to his son, Allen Potter, Jr., under penalty of prosecution. This is a sad case; but the Commercial hopes that this measure will prove successful.

Adam Arnold Appeals.

Adam C. Arnold, at Battle Creek, has been found guilty of selling liquor after legal hours, and fined $50 and costs—$68 in all—and sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment in the county jail, and until the fine is paid, not to exceed ninety days. He appealed the case to the Circuit Court.

Selling Out.

The Hon. James Birney has put his entire property in Bay county in the market, and offers to sell Bay City lots at the value placed on them by the Tax Assessors, which is less than similar property sold for ten years ago. The Bay City papers do not contain any explanation of this fact, notwithstanding its apparent business inferences.

A Printer's Mistake.

A Kalamazoo paper relates an instance in which an aged couple (the husband being 86 and the wife 79) had a child born to them recently. It turns out, however, to be a printer's mistake. The writer of the paragraph had written the word borne, and the printer had dropped the final e. What the printer meant is plain enough, but what the writer of the paragraph meant will only be known at the judgment day, for he doesn't know him-self now.

A Vast Amount of Amusement.

Quite an amusing scene occurred at the preliminary test of the water works last Saturday. John L. Jewell and our stalwart night watchman, Ed Paquette, undertook to handle the nozzle at one hydrant. There was about 120 pounds pressure upon the pipes when the water was turned on the hose. The force was so great that it wrested the nozzle from the pipemen, and in its gyrations it struck Mr. Paquette on the side of the head, the first knockdown being scored for the water works. Ed undertook to get up, when the pipe came around again and struck him on the hip, when he to escape further attack, started off on all fours. Just then the stream of water struck him under the coat tail, passed up his back, washed off his paper collar, and, striking the back of his head, split into two cataracts, completely blinding him. So persistent was the attack upon him that he began to think it was a thing of life. The scene afforded a vast amount of amusement to the bystanders.—Cheboygan Tribune.

Newton Case's Find.

The Marshall Statesman makes a frantic attempt to induce all young men to become farmers by telling the following: "Newton Case, while plowing in a field near the Emerald mills last week, saw something glitter in a newly-turned furrow, and was surprised to find that the glittering object was a gold watch. The cases were as bright as those of a new watch, but all the steel parts, including bearings, were rusted away. The dial was marked with two streaks of iron rust, showing that the watch stopped about four minutes to 6, but in what year nobody thereabout can tell. It is an old-fashioned cylinder escapement watch, and various theories regarding its presence in the field are advanced. Some maintain that it must have been dropped by an old-timer before the timber was cleared away, as its style of movement is of a pioneer character. Others think it was stolen from a house on the Territorial road robbed a short time since, and was dropped by the thief, who was traced across the field where the watch was found. Eugene Wyckoff has the watch in his possession."

A Historic Building—Perhaps.

The proof strengthens that the old Cass mansion on Larned street, which has been the subject of several recent notices in the News, is the identical structure built by Gov. De la Motte Cadillac for the Huron chief in 1703. More careful inspection of the framework reveals the fact that the opinion current among local antiquaries, resting upon the statement of Mr. Smolk, a former owner, that it was made of white cedar, is a total blunder. There is not a stick of cedar in the building. The principal parts of the frame and the underpinning are of oak, and to this extent corroborate the report made by Cadillac to Pontchartrain that he had built a "house of oak" for the Indian chieftain. Taken in connection with its well-known former situation, about 100 feet below its later site, a strong case is made for the identity of this edifice with the cabin of 1703. The chief remaining difficulty is with the comparative dimensions. Cadillac reported its size at "forty feet long and twenty-four feet wide," while this building was about thirty feet deep and fifty-three to fifty-four feet long. The discrepancies are not necessarily fatal, however. The French measures were larger; Cadillac may not have made an exact report, or it may not have been copied correctly; and there are other ways of escaping the difficulty. It is altogether probable that the memory of Gov. Cadillac may be safely associated with the old house, as may the memories of Govs. Cass and Porter.—Detroit News.

An Exciting Fight in the Water.

A correspondent writing from St. Helen, Roscommon county, gives the following interesting account of a desperate encounter between a man and a buck deer, held in the water at that place. He says the hero of the occasion was R. A. Barlow, book-keeper for Henry Stephens & Co., lumbermen, of that place, whereas, had he been a Nimrod whose prowess was a watchword among the dusky inhabitants of the pine-scented forests, and had he had other hair-breadth escapes and blood-curdling adventures, he might have been made the subject of a sketch that would have brought him renown among the small boys of the day. As it was, he was only Mr. Barlow, a book-keeper, and when on Wednesday last the sun toward eventide sank slowly toward the horizon, he laid aside his pen and office duster, and hid himself toward the rippling waters, where, in the shelter of the evening shade, he would cool his fevered brow and dip his pedals in the cooling liquid. Gaining courage as the shade of night became greater, he descended on and captured a punt and started for a greater depth of water where, unchecked, he could sport with the finny tribes in their own element. Coming to the surface after a dive of unusual distance, Mr. Barlow was astonished at seeing approaching him a buck of large proportions, whose antlers spread over his head like the branches of a tree of the forests. Startled almost out of his boots, or rather out of the water, the swimmer struck out for his boat and there with a paddle waged war upon the animated buckskin. The animal, nothing daunted, made for that floating book-keeper, and, with a dexterity worthy of a better cause, spilled everything into the water, swam for the shore and disappeared in the woods. Mr. Barlow was badly scared and very wet when he returned to his lodgings that night.

Beside those tabulated above, the following named diseases were reported each by one observer: Diabetes, meningitis, sore-throat, pharyngitis and catarrh.

For the week ending Sept. 9, 1882, the reports indicate that dysentery and typho-malarial fever considerably increased, that erysipelas and influenza increased, and that diarrhea and tonsillitis decreased in area of prevalence.

At the State Capitol, during the week ending Sept. 9, the prevailing winds were south west; and, compared with the preceding week, the average temperature was lower, the average absolute and the relative humidity and the average day and night ozone were less.

Including reports by regular observers and by others, diphtheria was reported present during the week ending Sept. 9, and since, at seventeen places, scarlet fever at eleven places, measles at four places, and small-pox at three places, as follows: In Berlin township, Ionia county, Sept. 8; at Grand Rapids (last case discharged Sept. 12); at Ionia, Sept. 18.

For the week ending Sept. 9, the Sanitary Inspector reports three cases of whooping-cough among immigrants arriving at Detroit.

HENRY B. BAKER, Secretary.

LIPPINCOTT'S Magazine for October has a very interesting table of contents. In the opening illustrated article, "Norfolk, Old and New," Charles Burr Todd tells how this city, "evidently intended by nature for a great commercial centre," is at last beginning to profit by the advantages of its position, and is full of bustle and enterprise, extending its railroad communications and becoming one of the chief emporiums of the cotton trade and other industries of the South. "My Escape from the Floods," by Annie Porter, gives a vivid description of the overflow of the Mississippi River last spring. "Bark Canoeing in Canada," an illustrated paper by "Kankuck," and "Camping on the Lower Wabash," by M. H. Catherwood, are sufficiently described by their titles. "My College Chums," by Henry A. Beers, is written with quiet humor, and gives some capital anecdotes and suggestive glimpses of student life at Yale. In the way of fiction there is a further installment of the lively and well-constructed serial, "Fairy Gold," and a full complement of short stories. We hardly know whether "The Shocking Example," by F. C. Baylor, is to be classed with these, as it has the air of being substantially a literal transcript from actual life. There are some very good things in the "Monthly Gossip," and the whole number is eminently readable and among the best of the year.

[OFFICIAL.]
Common Council.

HOLLAND, Mich., September 20, 1882.

The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

The following bills were presented for payment: Boot & Kramer, paid poor order, etc., $ 5 03 Wm. Van Putten, salary as city physician, 33 33 Wm. Van Putten, " health officer, 8 33 H. S. Woodruff, repairing sidewalks, 2 75 J. Kramer, expense to Grand Rapids, 3 00 Geo. H. Sipp, " 6 00 —Allowed and warrants ordered issued on the City Treasurer for the several amounts.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

The Com. on Poor reported presenting the semi-monthly report of the Director of the Poor and said committee, recommending $31.30 for the support of the poor, for the 2 weeks ending October 4, 1882.—Approved and warrants ordered issued on the City Treasurer for the amounts.

The Committee on Fire Department reported, recommending the cleaning out of fire wells, that the drive well between Cedar and Fish street is worthless for fire purposes in its present condition, that the expense of repairing the same would be about $42 provided the points can be used again, with new points the cost will be about $57. The Committee stated that Mr. E. F. Hinkson offered to sink in the bottom of our wells 26 inch tile for $1 per foot and will guarantee them against quicksand but will not warrant the supply of water. The committee thought it might be advisable to try a tile well, but could not recommend them. The committee stated that there should be something done to secure to the city a better supply of water for fire purposes.—Committee instructed to have one of Mr. Hinkson tile wells sunk in one of the old curb wells.

The Committee on public buildings and property reported the following bids for painting old house and engine and jail building, to-wit, Dinkeloo & Son, $28; E. E. Annis, $55.—Committee instructed to accept bid of E. E. Annis, provided the bid is for two coats of paint and the repair of the building.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITY OFFICERS.

Justice John A. Roest reported the number of cases tried before him, from March 1882 to Sept. 16, 1882, for violation of the penal laws of the state and the ordinance of the city, and receipt of the city treasury for $11.06 fines collected.—Filed.

The City Physician reported having treated four cases in the month of August 1882.—Filed.

The City Librarian reported as follows: The whole number of books in the City Library is 422 bound volumes, of which 13 are needing to be rebound, and many more are getting near the same condition. The whole amount of fines collected during the past year is $2.40. The condition of the library is poor. Many of the books are really worn out, and although pains is taken to keep them well covered with heavy manilla paper many are so nearly gone that they must go into the waste basket before long. No books have been purchased during the past year, and the public interest in the library has to a great extent ceased. The city ought to purchase at least $100 worth of books a year, to keep the library up, and make it a credit, and a benefit to our citizens.

H. D. Post, Librarian.

The Board of Education reported to the council the amounts necessary to be raised for schools and school-house purposes.—Filed.

The following bids were received for the grading and graveling of east twelfth street, to-wit: P. Koning, and J. Hyder, grading per yard, 15 cents; clay per yard, 30 cents; gravel per yard, 85 cents; all other work $25. K. Van Haften, grading per cubic yard, 16 cents; clay and graveling per cubic yard, 65 cents; all other work $10.—Laid upon the table until the next meeting of the Common Council.

Council adjourned to Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., September 27, 1882.

A special to the Chicago Times, dated Sept. 9th, furnishes the following information in regard to the Seney syndicate plan for the new railroad to connect with the Chicago & West Michigan at Allegan. "It is reported that the capital has been subscribed and arrangements made for the building of a new line of railroad from Toledo, O., to Allegan, Mich., the object being to reach the lumber trade of northern Michigan, and copper works of that section with coal from the line of the Ohio Central road of which the Ohio & Michigan will be a continuation. The enterprise is projected by the syndicate of capitalists prominent among whom is George I. Seney, who built the New York, Chicago & St. Louis, the Ohio Central, Peoria, Decatur & Evansville, Lake Erie & Western, and other roads, and who are now actively engaged in developing the resources of the south through the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia, the Kentucky Central, Memphis & Charleston, and other lines. The Ohio & Michigan will come in quiet competition with the Michigan Central so far as its northern connections are concerned, and it will be a valuable feeder, not only for the Ohio Central, but for the New York, Chicago & St. Louis."

HERE we have a knife. It looks like a saw, but it is a knife. It belongs to an editor, and is used for sharpening pencils, killing roaches, opening champagne bottles and cutting the heart out of bad men who come into the office to whale the reporters. There is blood on the blade of the knife, but editor will calmly lick it off, and then the blade will be clean and bright as ever. The knife cost 70 cents, and was imported from London, Connecticut. If you are good, perhaps the editor will give it to you to cut off the cat's tail. —Unidentified.

Are There Such Banks as This?

The bank cashier and two of the directors have just finished a confidential chat in the bank parlor when in walks the secretary with a newspaper in his hand and observes:

"There it is again—another cashier embezzles $30,000 and skips."

"Ah!" says the first director.

"Ah!" echoes the second.

"Ah! that reminds me," adds the cashier. "If you hadn't happened to mention it I might have forgotten it entirely. Fourteen years ago I began to rob this bank of a few dollars at a time and cover my offence by false entries."

"No!" by the three in chorus.

"I have taken $13,500 up to date, and you have not missed a dollar of it. I can't restore $10 of the sum."

"Your bond!" yells the President.

"Neither signed nor dated," replies the cashier.

"We'll put you in prison!"

"And my friends will get me a pardon in six months."

"But think of the disgrace!"

"Pooh! Think of the bank, rather."

The cashier lights a twenty-center and puts his feet on the table, and the trio retire to a corner, whisper, nod, agree and the President returns and says:

"Young man, here is $500 to take you on a vacation for six weeks; go and regain your lost health, and if you want a certificate of character write us and it shall be forwarded by first mail."—Wall Street News.

"Seventy berths in the ladies' cabin!" exclaimed Fogg, after hearing a description of the new Old Colony steamer. "Great Scott! but there must have been a terrible squall about that time!"—Boston Transcript.

Bacon's Famous Essays.

Lord Bacon was one the most extraordinary men of which any age can boast. A scholar, a wit, a lawyer, a judge, a statesman, a philosopher, his writings will endure as long as the language in which they were written can be read. His universal genius made him master of all the sciences and his immortal writings laid the foundations of the scientific method which has changed the philosophy of the world. Prof. Playfair said of him: "The power and compass of such a mind must be an object of admiration to all succeeding ages." His Essays are a treasury of the deepest knowledge conveyed in a gorgeous and energetic style. They continue to be the chosen companion of all students and thinkers. In no other writer is so much profound thought to be found expressed in such splendid eloquence. Thousands of readers will welcome heartily the very charming new and complete Elizabethan edition, just issued by the Useful Knowledge Publishing Co., New York, at the ridiculously low price of 45 cents for the cloth, 60 cents for the half-Russia binding. For sale in this city by H. D. Post.

JOTTINGS.

FARMERS have commenced cutting corn.

SEVERAL new residences are in course of construction.

Mr. H. Te Roller and wife, of Chicago, were visiting friends and relatives in this city this week.

Mr. W. F. Davis, of Rutland, Vermont, has been appointed Master Mechanic of the Chicago and West Michigan Railway.

The Cappon & Bertsch Leather Company are erecting quite a large hide house on Ninth street, just east of their engine house.

We learn that Rev. Wielinga, of the Netherlands, has again declined the call extended by the First Ref. Church (majority) of this city.

We are told that an effort will be made to get up a good lecture course here this winter. We hope this is true, and that it may not fail for want of support.

Mr. Stearns, night despatcher at the Chicago & West Michigan Railway Depot, is making arrangements to build a small steam yacht to run on Macatawa Bay next season.

THE many friends of Rev. Mr. Kimura, formerly a student of Hope College, will be glad to learn that he reached Yokohama on last Thursday, after a passage of nineteen days from San Francisco, Cal.

On Monday evening, Sept. 25th, the Republicans of this city will hold a caucus in the vacant room over the Dry Goods store of Mr. E. J. Harrington, for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention.

Mr. J. C. Post has taken the place of Mr. J. R. Wylie, in the firm of Williams & Wylie, Attorneys at Grand Rapids. Mr. Post will however, continue to reside in Holland and have an office here, being in this city part of each week.

Rev. D. Van Pelt preached his farewell sermon in Hope Church last Sunday evening. Last Tuesday evening Mr. Van Pelt held farewell services, in the Holland language, in the Third Ref. Church. On both occasions the Churches were crowded with people.

We have direct telegraphic communication now with Wellsboro, Ind., the Chicago & West Michigan Railway lines having been "cut through" during the past week. We understand that the Company is to have a joint office, with the Baltimore & Ohio, and the Chicago & Grand Trunk Roads, at that point.

LAST Thursday, a fisherman caught at the Park, a genuine silver eel which measured two feet and eight inches in length and weighed two pounds and a half. This eel is the first one ever caught in Macatawa Bay, and its appearance in the waters of the Bay was quite a surprise to many of our citizens. Photographer Burgess leveled his "machine" at it, and now exhibits a very fine picture of the fish in his gallery.

Mr. J. W. Bosman, Jr., who graduated from Hope College with high honors last year, left yesterday for Ann Arbor, where he will pursue the studies of Medicine and Surgery at the State University. "Billy," as we understand, visited Coopersville on his way to Ann Arbor, with the avowed intention of settling the difficulties and unpleasantness that arose from a sleigh-ride which he took to Zeeland, one day last winter.

Mr. M. W. Palmer of this city, inventor of the "Palmer Wind Mill", has invented an ingenious device for the use of farmers and dairymen in keeping milk and for "raising cream." It is called the "Holland Creamer," and is very highly spoken of by those who have used it. If farmers will be enabled to make first-class butter by the use of the "Creamer," we hope that all the farmers in this locality will purchase one, as we have had very poor butter in this city for some time past.

HOPE College opened its School-year on Wednesday morning last (Sept. 20th.) Of former students 55 returned to their classes, and 44 new students were received, making a total of 99, viz.: Academic, 22; Preparatory, 77. Some others are expected, and there is every prospect of a gratifying increase in the number of those who seek the advantages of the Institution. The Faculty remains as last year, and the character and experience of the instructors, give the best assurance that the education sought for can be obtained. If any young men or young women are contemplating entrance into Hope College for the coming year, we would suggest an immediate application, so that the proper studies may be taken up in the regular course. Rev. Dr. Mandeville has informed the Executive Committee that he will enter upon his duties, as Financial Agent, on the 1st of October next. Through his efforts, and the continued aid of the western churches, the College may look for increasing prosperity and usefulness.

TWENTY-two men are at work putting in the machinery of the Standard Roller Mills. It is expected that the mill will be in working order by the 1st of December.

THERE are many deadly serpents that nestle in the foliage of our most fascinating literature; they coil around the flowers whose perfume most intoxicates the senses.

"Youth is like those verdant forests tormented by winds; it agitates on every side the abundant gifts of Nature, and some profound murmur always reigns in its foliage."

It is rumored that Messrs. J. Van Putten & Co., will soon make some very important changes in the Butter Tub Factory. Changes that will develop our manufacturing interests quite materially.

We understand that a new tannery is in course of construction in this city. Messrs. J. Schoon is the projector of this new enterprise. The location of the building is to be at the foot of Seventh street.

Rev. Frank A. Force, formerly a student of Hope College, preached his farewell sermon in the Reformed church at Woodstock, Ulster Co. N. Y. 27th ult. and has removed to take charge of the church of Manito, Mason Co., Ill.

In consequence of the very dry weather, fears are entertained by our most prominent farmers, that the wheat already sown will not sprout, or in case it does, there will not be enough moisture in the ground to prevent it from drying up.

THE Laketown correspondent of the Allegan Democrat says: "Quite a sensation has been created by a young married woman engaging herself to another man during the brief absence of her husband; she having, at the expense of her new lover, commenced an action for divorce."

This week we were shown a large plum which was intended to "beat the plum," raised by Mr. T. S. Purdy, of which we made mention a few weeks ago, but it "fell short" a quarter of an inch. The plum was grown by Mr. Evert Ellen, and was a very fine one, measuring 5 1/4 inches in circumference.

A WOMAN in Almont, this State, goes to the saloons nights with a loaded revolver and takes her husband home. This would be a good plan for some of Holland's women to adopt. The only question that arises in our mind is, would any of our women have the pluck to shoot the "gun" off if the man refused to go home.

On looking over our new advertisements in this issue, our readers will find that Messrs. R. Kanters & Sons offer very attractive inducements, for all in need of Parlor, Wood and Coal Stoves. At the party at the Park House last Tuesday evening, there was rather a small crowd, but it is said they had "a large time."

At the Republican State Convention of New York held last Wednesday, Secretary of the Treasurer Folger, was nominated for Governor.

At the Republican Senatorial Convention held at Grand Haven last Monday, Hon. Wm. M. Harford, of Muskegon, was nominated for the office of state senator for this district.

An advertisement elsewhere announces that the Detroit Weekly Post and Tribune will be sent three months for 25 cents per single copy, and 5 names for $1.00. Cheap for 8 large pages of choice reading matter.

Mrs. Wm. Tobias of this city, created quite a sensation last Tuesday morning. She took half an ounce of laudanum with suicidal intent. Dr. Kremers attended and soon pronounced her out of danger. Domestic troubles is supposed to have been the cause that led to the rash act.

A MEETING of the Republicans of the Township of Holland, will be held in the Town House, next Wednesday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention. A good attendance is urgently requested. By order of Committee.

W. DIEKEMA, Chairman.

THE steamer S. B. Barker, Capt. F. R. Brower, will hereafter run between this port, Saugatuck and Douglas, and Grand Haven. At Saugatuck, the Barker connects with the boats for Chicago, and at Grand Haven with the boats for Milwaukee. Capt. Brower, informs us that the boat will leave here at 10 o'clock a. m. for Saugatuck and Douglas, and will leave Saugatuck for Grand Haven, at 6 p. m., arriving there in time for the departure of the Milwaukee boat. This line as established, gives our fruit shippers an excellent opportunity for daily marketing at Milwaukee or Chicago, and we trust that the Barker may receive sufficient encouragement to make the line a permanent one.

FROM a report of Secretary of State, dated September 1st, we glean the following: "The number of acres of wheat threshed in the southern four tiers of counties, as shown by the threshers' records, is 105,610, or seven per cent of the wheat acreage of these counties, last spring, as shown by the supervisors' reports. The yield was 1,865,322 bushels, an average of 17 1/2 bushels per acre, which is more than a bushel less than the average as estimated by correspondents in August. Special reports received from 35 counties do not change the August estimates of the amount of wheat injured by rain. That portion of the injured wheat that can be marketed at all, brings from fifty to seventy-five per cent of the price of No. 1 wheat, but no inconsiderable amount is worthless except for feed. The oat crop is probably one of the best ever grown in the State. The yield per acre, so far as reported by threshers is 31 bushels. Corn, though very late, promises an average crop. The estimate for barley is the same as in August, 26 bushels per acre. Meadows and pastures, and clover sowed this year, are in excellent condition. Beef cattle and sheep are in better flesh than September 1, 1881. In the central, south-eastern, and south-western parts of the State, winter apples promise from one-third to one half, and in the northern counties about eight-tenths of an average crop. The average for the State is 55. Late peaches promise six-tenths of an average crop. The estimated average yield per acre of corn and Barley; the condition September 1st, compared with September 1, 1881, of meadows and pastures, and the probable yield of winter apples and late peaches of Ottawa county are as follows: Corn, estimated yield per acre, bushels of ears, 46; Barley, estimated average yield per acre, bushels, 30; Winter apples, probable yield compared with an average crop, per cent, 46; Late peaches, probable yield compared with an average crop, per cent, 56.

CURIOUS AND SCIENTIFIC.

A FRENCH scientist, who has been photographing the moon during partial eclipse, believes from the indications that the moon has no atmosphere.

PROF. PAUL BERT, of France, has made experiments to determine the limit of safety in using chloroform. He found, not only in chloroform, but in all anesthetics except protoxide of nitrogen, that the death dose is exactly double that required to produce insensibility when applied to dogs, sparrows and mice.

A GENTLEMAN writing to the Scientific American on the habits of some Western snakes tells how the rattlesnakes worry the prairie dogs and destroy their young. It seems it is not an unusual occurrence to find whip, racer and bull-snakes with the entire contents of fowls' nests in their capacious stomachs. This observer has seen a puff-adder fastened to the hind foot of a turtle, sucking its blood and digesting off its toes. He found many box-turtles deformed in their hind feet, probably from this cause.

EPITHELIOMA, or skin cancer, is generally occasioned by the long-continued or frequently repeated applications of an irritant, as in the case of Senator Hill, who had the peculiar habit of holding a cigar almost constantly in his mouth, and keeping the nicotine-coated end against the left side of his tongue. This was no doubt the exciting cause in his case. It is well known that the Senator inherited a predisposition to cancer, having lost a sister several years ago by the same disease. Many instances are on record where the disease has been traced to a short-stemmed pipe.

A PHYSICIAN calls attention to the fact that if tobacco smoke be instantly ejected from the mouth and throat before descending into the chest and be made to pass through a cambric handkerchief drawn tightly across the open lips, a permanent deep yellow stain, corresponding in size and shape to the opening between the lips, and having numerous spots of a darker hue pervading it, will be left on the handkerchief; but that the prolonged puff from the chest after inhalation from a cigarette fails, under similar circumstances, to produce any but a scarcely-perceptible and speedily-evanescent mark. What, in the latter case, becomes of the substance which stains? This physician thinks it remains in the lungs, and he therefore condemns the common manner of smoking cigarettes as dangerous.

PROF. LOCKER is of the opinion that there are many facts suggested by the spectra of solar and stellar physics which seem to show that the elements themselves, or, at all events, some of them, are compound bodies. Thus, it would appear that the hotter a star the more simple is its spectrum; for the brightest, and, therefore, probably the hottest stars, such as Sirius, furnish spectra showing only very thick hydrogen lines, and a few very thin metallic lines, characteristic of the elements of low atomic weight. On the other hand, the cooler stars, such as our sun, are shown by their spectra to contain a much larger number of metallic elements; and, again, the coolest stars furnish fluted band spectra, characteristic of compounds of metallic with non-metallic elements, and of non-metallic elements. These facts appear to meet with a simple explanation, if it be supposed that, as the temperature increases, the compounds are first broken up into their constituent elements, and that these elements then undergo decomposition into elements of lower atomic weight.

Suddenly Weakened.

"I suffered with rheumatism of the back and hip for a number of years," said Mr. Thomas Morgan, Superintendent of Streets. "I was waited on by physicians, but they gave me no permanent relief, and I resolved to try St. Jacobs Oil. My rheumatism weakened at the first attack of its great enemy, St. Jacobs Oil, and soon I was well." Cincinnati Times-Star.

A Safe Duel.

Railroads separate many friends. A happier result is reached when they furnish means to separate enemies. A Northern correspondent conversing with a legal gentleman in Montgomery, Ala., heard a creditable illustration of the discretion which is sometimes said to be "the better part of valor." At least it exemplifies the wisdom of "absence of body" when parties have no better justification of battle than the "code of honor."

We were talking about duels, and when the names of several parties who had gone out in past years to satisfy their honor were mentioned, the Judge knocked the ashes off his cigar and said: "Gentlemen, it may be mentioned right here that I have been there myself."

"Were you challenged?" "I was. It was over in South Carolina, and I called a man a liar. He sent me a challenge and I selected swords as the weapons. We met at 6 o'clock the next morning. It was just such a morning as this—bright, beautiful and full of life."

"And how did you feel?" "Very queer. I shall never forget my sensations as I saw my rival, and he seemed to be as visibly affected. We couldn't either of us say a word."

"Was it in a grove?"

"Oh, no; it was at the depot."

"The depot? Why, you didn't fight at the depot, did you?"

"Well, no. The morning express trains passed there at 7, and he took one and I the other!"

MR. MICHAEL ROBBETT, 77 Sargent street, Cohoes, N. Y., was cured of a very severely-injured knee by St. Jacobs Oil, says the Rochester, N. Y., Sunday Herald.

Conditions of Longevity.

Nature will allow man to live long and be happy on condition that he obeys her laws of life and health are obeyed. Keep the blood pure, keep the bowels regular, keep the kidneys strong, keep the mind clear. These are her four chief commands. Dr. Guyssot's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla is a great help in maintaining these conditions. Ask your druggist to get it for you.

Well-Behaved Rascals.

Perhaps the most extraordinary thing about the French convict settlement of Noumea, capital of New Caledonia, is the extreme docility of the convicts. Large gangs of them pass from one part of the town to another in charge of a single gendarme, and frequently numbers may be met working in the street, with apparently not a soul to look after them. Many are employed in private houses as servants, returning at 9 p. m. to their prison. As a consequence of this, docility they seem to be kindly treated, and have a good deal of time to themselves, which they employ in various ways, such as carving on shells, etc. These shells they sell to passers-by in the streets when they think they are unobserved by the gendarmes; for, strictly speaking, they are not supposed to communicate with outsiders, but the gendarmes are not hard with them. There are now 10,000 convicts in Noumea, and several thousand more reported to be on the way, or about to start. Moreover, they are not political prisoners with a decent regard for private rights, but, without exception, sentenced criminals.

R. M. BUNTON, of Columbus, Ind., writes: "For kidney complaints, indigestion and weak lungs I can conscientiously recommend as a reliable cure Dr. Guyssot's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. I have used it myself and recommended it to my friends, with most satisfactory results."

PROMINENT Knights Templar are discussing the proposition to acquire from the Government a tract of land in some unsettled part of the country, perhaps in the heart of the Rocky mountains, as an exclusive camping ground for the Grand Commanderies, ample enough to accommodate the entire order. It is believed that such a permanent place of meeting, removed from the influences of large cities, would stimulate extraordinary interest and secure the most desirable results.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Three months ago I was broken out with large ulcers and sores on my body, limbs and face. Perry Davis' Pain-Killer.

[Colman's Rural World, St. Louis, July, 1882.]

We have known this remedy for twenty-five years, and have had occasion to use it many times. For cramps in the bowels or colicky pains we know of no remedy that equals it, and the same may be said of external application, in the case of inflammations, sprains or other painful swellings. Indeed it is an article that ought to be found in every household, and the specific instructions, that accompany every bottle, kept where they can always be found. The manufacturers are, we know, of the very best men in their community, and their statements perfectly reliable.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, February 20, 1881.

To Mr. J. W. Graham, Druggist:

Dear Sir—My case was an acute form of Bronchitis, and was of one and a half year's duration. I employed the best medical aid possible, but failed rapidly, until the doctors said I would die—that my case was incurable. Thrown upon my own resources, I got a bottle of DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS, and in six hours felt a decided relief. In three days the cough almost disappeared. Now that my chances of life are good for many years, I earnestly recommend the above to every sufferer of throat or lung disease.

To Vendors of Ardent Spirits.

If a large portion of the evils of intemperance, ruining so many thousands for this world and the next, could be shown to be owing to your traffic, would you not deem your trade unlawful, and your gains the price of blood? But are you not among the causes of this mischief?

Where, let me ask, are habits of drinking formed? Broken-hearted wife, where did your husband learn to drink?

Who, I ask again, presents the temptation to the eye of burning appetite? You, whose business it is to fill up the fatal cup for your fellow-man, know who it is.

What would be the consequence were no ardent spirits sold, and of course none drunk? Let families beggared, penitentiaries filled, graveyards peopled by drunkenness, answer.

Could every drop you have sold come back and tell you all its agency in producing crime and misery, every copper you have gained in the trade would torment your conscience like the thirty pieces of silver in the hand of Judas.

No conscientious man will plead that others will sell if he does not. If this be an apology for one, it is for all; and then there is no crime in becoming accessory to all the intemperance which curses the land.

Perhaps you do not sell to a man who is actually drunk; but when sobered, you will sell him enough to make him drunk again. Perhaps you disallow tipping in your shop, but you will send a man home with his jug to expose his crime and folly in the presence of his family.

How can you become religious, so long as you sell spirituous liquors? How go from your day-book, filled with charges of gallons and quarts and pints and gills dealt out, to that holy book which says, "Be not thou a partaker of other men's sins." How can you expect to be finally removed to heaven from a scene which is the thoroughfare to perdition? How can you habitually encourage others in the highway to hell, and still be yourself a pilgrim of that narrow path which leads to life eternal?

A Short Road to Health.

To all who are suffering from boils, ulcers, scrofula, carbuncles, or other obstinate diseases of the blood and skin, a course of Burdock Blood Bitters will be found to be a short road to health. Price $1.00.

Wide Awake Delta.

Messrs. Sargent Bros., druggists, Delta, Ohio, in ordering a quantity of Thomas' Electric Oil, write that they never sold anything that gave such universal satisfaction in curing coughs, colds, bronchitis, rheumatism, neuralgia, etc.

Noting the Effects.

R. Gibbs, of Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "Hearing your Burdock Blood Bitters favorable spoken of, I was induced to watch their effects, and find that in chronic diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys, your bitters have been signally marked with success. I have used them myself with best results, for torpidity of the liver; and in the case of a friend of mine suffering from dropsy, the effect was marvelous." Price $1.00.

A Heavy Swell.

Jacob H. Bloomer, of Virgille, N. Y., writes: "Your Thomas' Electric Oil cured a badly swelled neck and sore throat on my son in forty-eight hours; one application also removed the pain from a very sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed—so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the Oil, and in twenty-four hours was entirely cured."

A Valuable Addition.

Because it is beneficial to the scalp and adds to personal beauty by restoring color and lustre to gray or faded hair, is why Parker's Hair Balsam is such a popular dressing.

What Everybody Wants.

Is a reliable medicine that never does any harm and that prevents and cures disease by keeping the stomach in order, the bowels regular, and the kidneys and liver active. Such a medicine is Parker's Ginger Tonic. It relieves every case, and has cured thousands. See other column. —Tribune.

"Ha, come hither, pretty one. Canst tell me why a watermelon is like unto a book?" It was the voice of the noble Sir Grabbard, and at the sound of his words, the lady Stiletto, his well-beloved niece, raised her cerulean orbs (blue eyes) from the crocheted work that lay entangled in her fairy-like fingers. "Nay, me lord," she answered in her peccoldest tones; "give me an easier one." Like a swollen river chafing its rugged shores, or a volcano getting ready for a matinee, a great limpid laugh gurgled through the anatomy of Sir Grabbard. He replied, "Because, my dear niece, it is never red until it is opened." —Boston Transcript.
